

SAVE CHILDREN LIVE HERE

LYNN, March 10.—Two persons were overcome by the smoke, three children were rescued and twelve adults were driven to the street in a panic today during a fire in the three-story tenement house at No. 25 West street, city. Four-year-old William Griffin had to be twice rescued by his uncle, Thomas Griffin, the second time after the boy had been rendered unconscious by the burning building.

While the flames were taking up the wall, Mrs. Patricia Griffin, who lived on the first floor, picked up her year-old daughter Katherine and ran toward the front hallway. There she was confronted by a wall of flame and smoke. At the rear of the house she could see conditions even better than from the front. She tried to make her way but was unable to get out. She was rescued by her husband, who carried her to safety. Little William and Frances Griffin, aged two years, and Katherine, who had been overcome by the smoke, were rescued by their father, who ran back into the house, the smoke being so thick that it was difficult to see. The fire was extinguished by the fire department. The damage was estimated at $10,000. The fire was caused by a gas stove in the kitchen.

IF DEBILITATED YOU NEED A NEW SUPPLY OF BLOOD

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Are Unequalled As a Blood-Builders
And Will Cure You As They Did This Sufferer.

The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in general debility lies in their direct response to the needs of the blood. Their work is to make new blood. That they do this well is shown by the gradual disappearance of the symptoms and the return of color and health. They lay the foundation for permanent health in the future.

Mr. Peter Hoff, of No. 108 Ferry street, Hoboken, N. J., who was in a run-down condition, restored his health with the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He says:

"I was in poor health for three months following a severe cold and was confined to bed for a day or two at a time. There was a terrible soreness through the middle of my back which often prevented me from straightening up. My kidneys were affected, my head ached occasionally and I was unable to get any sleep. I had lost my appetite and was generally run down."

"I was under a doctor's care for a time but gave up his treatment to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills upon the advice of a friend. They soon helped me and after a thorough trial I was so improved that I could go to work. I was completely cured and recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills very highly."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are originally a prescription used in the doctor's private practice and their benefits to mankind has been increased many thousand-fold by their being placed on general sale with the health and medicine sections for use. They contain the elements necessary to make new blood and, as the nerves get their nourishment from the blood, have been found invaluable in a wide range of diseases of the blood and nerves. A helpful pamphlet, "Diseases of the Blood" will be sent free on request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, or six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. These pills are sold only in packages bearing the well-known trademark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Pills sold in any other package are not the same, whatever the clerk says.

MIND AND BODY

provides that balance of mind and body so essential to every successful life. In these days of strenuous living we all occasionally feel the need of a medicine that will neutralize the effect of disease germs and cause our minds and bodies to work in perfect harmony.

At such times Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey comes to the rescue. It is a gentle, invigorating stimulant and tonic that influences the good every important organ of the body. It builds up the tissues, tones up the heart, gives power to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and richness to the blood. It brings into action all the vital forces, makes digestion perfect and enables you to get from the food you eat all the nourishment it contains.

It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system, is a promoter of young strength and vigor.

Its rare purity and honest richness has won the friendship of the civilized world. It is a remedy that should be in the family medicine chest. It is more than a tonic—it will keep you well.

JACKIES BARRED AT PORTSMOUTH

PORTSMOUTH, March 10.—The arrival of the officers and sailors of the city was met by a large crowd of the city's people. The officers were met by a large crowd of the city's people. The officers were met by a large crowd of the city's people.

Only a few days since the officer in command of the squadron of vessels here requested his men not to spend their money in this city owing to certain conditions of which he disapproved. This called forth a strong protest on the part of the Mayor and of business men, who charged discrimination. Now the contrary is directly reversed.

Commander J. J. Sullivan, commanding the squadron of vessels here, requested his men not to spend their money in this city owing to certain conditions of which he disapproved.

At the time of the occurrence, said Commander Sullivan, the officers and sailors were perfectly quiet, orderly and respectful. They had visited all the hotels in the city and had no complaints to make.

It is a public place of amusement. Money is charged and paid. I said it. Why, then, should a man wearing the uniform of his country's navy, be excluded from a part of it? The dance floor is a public place of amusement.

If the men behaving on shore, we ask consideration for them. If the courts do not punish them, let the courts punish them when they are behaving they are treated as other criminals.

It is within the power of the city government of Portsmouth to take immediate steps to be taken to require managers of public places of amusement to take steps to prevent the behavior of the sailors of the United States navy.

BIDDLE A HERO FOR 3 MINUTES

PHILADELPHIA, March 10.—Tony Biddle, the millionaire fighter, has a pair of black eyes and is shy two teeth today because he fought for the real white "chop," trained by Tony's prize ring friend Jack O'Brien. Biddle challenged O'Brien to a fight on a stippling box on Jack O'Brien's home and battered Tony O'Brien's home and battered Tony O'Brien's home and battered Tony O'Brien's home.

Biddle's nose aspirator lasted almost three minutes. First he went up against one Charles Burkhardt of Rahon, N. J. When Burke works he is a butcher. O'Brien thought his strategy was sufficiently trained, so he decided to give him a try-out with Biddle.

The "house" of the white "chop" stands six feet and six-inch high and has a reach of eighty-four inches. The rounds were in first minute and a half. Tony pulled in and let the rest of the "house" in the first round.

In the second round the "house" was again hit. Tony reached his wind limit and the gamblers went out of the "house" before he hit the "house" again. The "house" was again hit.

After the fight the "house" was again hit. Tony reached his wind limit and the gamblers went out of the "house" before he hit the "house" again. The "house" was again hit.

FRAUD DETAIL BY HAMMOND

ATLANTA, March 10.—It is an unmitigated, absolute lie from beginning to end," was the emphatic detail made by John Hays Hammond, recently named by President Taft special ambassador to the commission of King George V., to the charges of fraudulent dealings in connection with the affairs of the General Union Securities Company.

"The affair," continued Hammond, "is a fight between certain portions of the company and they are trying to drag me into it."

As to the charges by David T. Kelly that he was double-crossed, Hammond said Kelly left New York to negotiate with friends of mine in England in regard to the sale of the American rights of the Washington, the Kellys had no right to sell.

Mr. Kelly's friends were in London and as a result of the test, reports reported to Kelly, he had no right to sell the American rights in England nor to turn any money over to Kelly as the test of the Kellys had no right to sell.

BLAMES PECK FOR DISMISSAL

NEW YORK, March 10.—Dr. Joel W. Sigman, after twelve years in Columbia University as president and full professor of comparative literature, has received a notice from President Nicholas M. Butler in the effect that he is "dismissing him from further academic service."

Professor Sigman traces the cause to his position that treatment during the war years relations with the university should be severed, without some expression of appreciation for his twenty-five years of service.

Dr. Sigman will be recalled, was dismissed from the faculty of Columbia after his father, Quinn of Boston had been a victim of promise action against him for fraud.

MAYOR HOME, DRAWS SALARY

Mayor Fitzgerald went back to city hall today, in the midst of a raw snow storm. He has been away three weeks at Palm Beach. House members wanted him to go to the city hall.

One of the first things the Mayor did after seeing the reporters was to ask a waiter for a glass of water. He then took a seat at his desk and began to read the mail. He was in the city hall for the first time in three weeks. He was in the city hall for the first time in three weeks.

His Landlady's Advice Probably Saved His Life

I feel that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root saved my life. I inherited weak kidneys. Very often my urine was bloody and the discharge so frequent and painful that I would have to stay in bed to obtain temporary relief. I consulted good physicians, but the results were disappointing. My landlady advised me to try Swamp-Root as the best remedy, which I did and I was quickly relieved.

What We Advertise We Have

Clothes, Georges reputation and Georges values are all gathering fame of the highest order from the

Price Sale

It's the talk of the town. You hear about it everywhere where well-dressed men congregate.

Georges clothes, the superb products of Custom Tailors all over the country, are coming in for a lot of praise; but the thing about a GEORGES Half Price Sale that pleases everybody is the fact that the reductions are real, not merely printed.

WHEN SPRINGTIME COMES

By MELVIN WILLIAMS

When the Frost King sails for the North
And the wild geese fly from the South,
When the ice in the hills
Makes its way to the rills,
And thence to the wide river's mouth,
We can tell that Spring is upon us
As the blanket of chill is uplifted,
And the warm breezes blow,
Unladen with snow,
And set poor old Winter adrift.
With Spring comes the chirping of robins
In search of a place for the nest—
The home of their young,
Where bird songs are sung,
When night spreads her mantle of rest.
Mr. Kent read an ad in Olliver's Weekly about "Spring being just over the hills" and asked me if I could write a poem full of Spring—the season of gladness—and I either had to write a Spring poem or let the other man get my goat. The poem (?) goes as it lays. Now for business! Gale & Kent ought to make your Spring suit or topcoat. They can make better clothes at $15 to $25 per suit than any other tailor in Boston can build you at $30 to $40. They guarantee everything to be right. The fit, style, wear and workmanship all go into their famous guarantee of "absolute satisfaction or money back on request—without any argument." For 19 years they have been doing business at 96 Court Street, every year increasing their patronage—every year making better clothes. You can take it from me—Gale & Kent make better clothes than my poetry—they are the epic writers of the tailoring business. Open evenings—and very busy—Believe me! MELVIN WILLIAMS.

This effect down is embossed, raised or "knuckled" to form them of alternate stripes of light and dark. The stripes (see Claret) and copies of the old Venetian lace are used for these lacements, and a border of lace to match completes the cover.

This is a change from the squares of lace and flims which have been popular for some time.

On the handkerchief cloths the stripes of linen are embossed in a conventionalized form of satin stripe and eyelet embroidery; and the costliest of all have stripes of satin, giving an optic effect that is lovely over polished mahogany.

Sometimes a fluting of satin in the palest rose of the decorations is used under these lace covers.

What the German Emperor Thinks About Suicide

Read It and Ask Yourself What YOU Think

Copyright, 1911, by American Journal-Examiner

We are all living on this earth, struggling, wriggling, striving, waiting for release from prison. A tin can filled with worms, held in the hand of a boy going fishing, is a fairly good reproduction of this human life of ours.

Few worms at most can be on top of the heap. A great majority of the worms MUST BE BURIED BELOW.

All the worms struggle and twist and fight and writhe. One by one the little fishing boy, whose name is Destiny, puts them on the hook and ends their wriggling—finally, when his day's fishing is done, he throws them all into the water and calls it "The Judgment Day."

Worms and other animals struggle to the end. The instinct of self-preservation commands them AND THEY NEVER KILL THEMSELVES. They COULD kill themselves, but they do not do it. Man is the only animal that occasionally stops wriggling and striving and wriggling and says to himself, "I am tired of staying in this tin box with the other worms. I am tired of waiting for little boy Destiny 'to give me the hook.' I am going to get out of this box once and for all."

Man really is different from the other animals.

Man LAUGHS. No other animal does that.

Man takes from his fellow-man what he does not need and what the fellow-man does need. Other animals do not do that.

Man kills himself sometimes—that no other animal does, in spite of occasional stories to the contrary.

In Germany a gradual process of wriggling and striving has put at the top of the tin box a large worm with mustaches and sword and a good supply of self-conceit, called Emperor William.

This particular human worm was born on top of the worm heap, he stays there, and has a good deal of fun while waiting for his turn to go on the hook.

He says that when a human being kills himself, that is A PRIVATE AFFAIR, and therefore nobody's business.

A German officer named Count Hans von Pfeil got tired of working in the army, or lacked the courage to face some ridiculous little German situation, and tried to kill himself. A "Court of Honor," made up of straight-lacked little military worms, sentenced to dismissal and dishonor the tired, discouraged man who made up his mind to get out of the tin box and attempted suicide without success.

The German Emperor has had his own troubles. He has had his own moments of disgust with life.

He feels himself a great fighting hero, and, in spite of himself, he knows that he is condemned to keep the peace.

He parades around as a war lord, but he knows that he is only a strutting turkey gobbler in a first class commercial barnyard.

He hated his mother bitterly because she went traveling before he was born, was taken with the pains of child-birth traveling in a diligence through a country village, and necessarily entrusted his advent into this world to an ignorant and frightened country doctor. The country doctor, thinking only of the importance of the royal mother, ignored the future of the little Hohenzollern babe, and in his haste and fear pulled violently on the arm of the little half-born creature, afterward to be known as Emperor William, tore all the muscles of the shoulder—and gave to the Emperor of Germany the deformed and useless arm which now fills him with bitterness. (That, at least, is the story told to this writer by the late Dr. Brown-Sequard, who attended the baby Emperor at Windsor Palace at the request of his grandmother, Queen Victoria.)

That deformed, mutilated arm has filled William II. with a bitterness had enough. And that mighty power, the Social-Democratic party, which is absolutely and surely securing control of Germany and making the Hohenzollerns ridiculous, fills him with a bitterness much greater, probably.

Emperor William is a fat, lucky, domineering worm on the top of the box. But probably he has even felt that he would like to be through with it and out of it.

So he overruled the findings of the Court of Honor, refused to permit the dismissal and the disgrace of the young officer who tried to kill himself, and said, overruling the Court's finding:

"He is responsible only to God and his conscience. Therefore, his deed can be judged neither by regular nor honor tribunals."

This decision of the German Emperor is important, for it says practically that German officers may kill themselves if they feel like it. Probably it is merely an endorsement of the notion that a man who cheats at cards, or dodges a duel through cowardice, or forces a good man into a duel through any kind of cowardice, may SAVE HIS HONOR by blowing out his dishonest brains.

What interests YOU is the fact that the German Emperor tells you that he who kills himself is responsible "only to God."

What do you think about it?

This is what we think about it. Life is a fight, and the man who quits a fight before he is knocked out of it is a coward.

Every man, by killing himself, endangers and influences some other human being, and that is cowardice or brutality.

Life is an actual conflict, begun at birth, ended at death. If a man wants to die, let him die usefully, at least and allow the doctors to experiment on him in a way that will be useful to others and better human beings.

If a man says that nobody cares about him, nobody wants him to live, that it makes no difference to anybody whether he lives or dies, he is like the beggar that asked for a few pennies to cross the river. The man of whom he begged the pennies said: "Have you any friends, any relatives on this side of the river or on the other?"

"No," said the beggar, "I have no friend, no relative and no hope anywhere."

"Then," said the man, "you might as well stay on THIS side of the river; there is no use of my wasting money to send you to the other side."

If a human being who thinks of suicide has any friends or hopes or relatives on this side of the river of death he ought to stay here. And if he has not, he might as well stay on this side, anyhow, for it matters not in the least upon which side he may be.

Life is a battle, struggle. Suicide is cowardice and "quitting." The real man sticks it out, "takes his medicine." He says to himself: "I did not make myself, I did not bring myself here. I did not enter myself for this race. But since I am in it, I am going to run AND NOT LIE DOWN. Suicide is cowardice, however explained or excused."

Has Your Wife Got a Harem Skirt Yet?

"Harem Skirts," Powers calls them in his scenes touching upon the above query, in the big City Life Section of the Sunday AMERICAN. One of the things you can't afford to miss.
